Dates for Asia's largest C&B event announced

Asia Pacific – Human Resources, Asia's only regional media & events brand, is proud to announce the return of the biggest regional conference dedicated to compensation & benefits, Employee Benefits Asia. Now in its 5th year, Employee Benefits Asia 2016 will conduct global thought leadership sessions and comprehensive discussions on issues facing high-ranking HR professionals and C&B specialists.

Employee Benefits Asia 2016 is a two-day conference happening in Singapore on 2-3 August, in Hong Kong on 9-10 August, and in Malaysia on 17–18 August. Known as Asia's biggest benefits and rewards conference, Employee Benefits Asia will look into the most critical trends, challenges, and strategies on compensation & benefits with updates and international perspectives on talent management and overall people strategy.

"A critical element in attracting, recruiting, and retaining the cream of the crop is a benefits programme that effectively addresses their needs," said Aditi Sharma Kalra, regional editor of Human Resources magazine. "Employee Benefits Asia will equip this year's participants with cutting-edge strategies and practical insights that they can truly apply on their organisations."

Employee Benefits Asia 2016 is open to C-level executives, C&B directors & managers, benefits & rewards experts, and top HR leaders from major companies in the region. Employee Benefits Asia 2016 will hold keynote presentations, case study analysis, interactive panel discussions, and networking sessions. These activities will be led by multi-awarded thought leaders and subject matter experts from various industries.

Past Employee Benefits Asia attendees are top HR executives from leading and international companies in the region, such as Agility, Ascott International, Coca Cola, Ericsson, Google, JT International, Maxis, On Semiconductor, Philip Morris, RHB Bank, UMW Toyota Motor, and many more. All presenters & panellists, such as Dan Gutin, regional human resources director for industrial affairs for APAC & Japan at Sanofi, are director or vice president level HR professionals with regional responsibility.

Held in Hong Kong, Kuala Lumpur and Singapore in August 2016, Employee Benefits Asia is the region's biggest conference on compensation & benefits strategy. The two-day annual event is focused on best practice rewards strategy, features an agenda dominated by case studies and global thought leaders, and attracts a large audience of senior HR generalists and compensation & benefits specialists as well as and CEOs, CFOs and COOs closely involved in their companies' compensation & benefits strategies.

To get a global and Pan-Asian regional view of compensation & benefits and to increase your knowledge and skills across the rewards spectrum do not miss Employee Benefits Asia in August 2016.
